We still remember thee.

But memory keeps you near us.

When our journey here shall close.
The midnight stars are beaming
Upon her silent grave,
Who sleepth without dreaming,
The one we could not save.

Christmas Seals

Sale For Tuberculosis Society Will Start Thanksgiving Day

Richmond, Oct. 18.—Preparations are well under way for the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals and committees have already been formed in a large number of counties to take charge of this work. Materials are in hand at state headquarters and will shortly be distributed to the agents in every county and city.

Communities having organizations interested in health work can secure not less than 45 per cent of the gross proceeds obtained from the sale of seals to be used locally in tuberculosis work.

Dr. Roy K. Flannagan, the Director of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, is suggestin ga number of ways in which the community's share of the funds realized may be spent. From $100 to $500 could be used in part payment of a community or school nurse. A health survey could be made for $200. A white patient could be supported at a State tuberculosis sanatorium for six months for $125; a colored patient for $75. Instructive and interesting sets of posters could be supplied to 35 schools for $100. 30,000 individual drinking cups could be provided school children at a cost of $300. Paper towels sufficient for 200 children would cost $90. Services of a doctor for clinic purposes for two hours per week could be secured for nine months for $360. Equipment for a clinic could be obtained for $125. These suggestions include a number of ways by which the proceeds of the seal sale may be applied for tuberculosis work, any of which would be of great value to the community.

A folder of suggestions for the seal sale prepared by the State office will enable the agents to benefit by the experience of workers in other states where the sale has been successful in past years. This folder includes a calender indicating the progress which should be made on given dates from November 1st, when the central committee and the sub-committees should be organized, to December 26th, when a meeting of the chairmen is scheduled for the "final push." November 15th is the day designated when all supplies should be in the hands of the sub-committees, Thanksgiving Day, November 25th, is the opening day of the sale. December 5th is to be called "Tuberculosis Sunday" and all ministers in Virginia will be asked to preach a sermon on the duty of their congregations in relation to the fight against the White Plague. December 15th is the date suggested for th opening of the sale by school children and the establishing of booths at strategic points.

SCOT RAIL MEN TO AID COAL STRIKERS

Send Word to English Workers They Will Cease Work Today

MANY PLANTS IDLE

Paralysis of Trade Creeps on Islands—Parliament Meets Tomorrow—Papers Back England.

London, Oct. 18.—The Scottish railway councils have telegraphed to the executives of the National Miners Union that "The railway men of Scotland are prepared to cease work at noon tomorrow in support of the miners."

Great Britain has entered the most fateful period of her internal affairs since the hours when the declaration of war against Germany was being debated by the nation.

Today a series of momentous conferences will begin, out of which will come the decision of organized labor, a mass of 6,000,000 workers, as to the attitude to be taken toward the strike of 1,000,000 coal miners.

The Transport Workers' Union will hold one meeting and the parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress will confer with the national executive committee of the Labor party. These two assemblies will decide roughly, whether organized labor is to array itself against the much greater, but unorganized mass which constitutes the rest of British society. A decision to do so is what the Government most fears.

By Tuesday, when Parliament is to reassemble, the huge labor issue will be clearly defined and this problem added to the Irish one.

The Labor party intends to move an immediate adjournment in order to permit the discussion of the labor controversy. The Government probably will assent and the Parliamentary battle will be on.

Meanwhile, a creeping paralysis is gradually numbing the limbs of the nation. From the great Midlands industrial region, the heart of British industry, comes a steady and disheartening flow of reports of mill after mill being forced to close down, owing to the coal strike and the consequent idleness of other dovetailing industries, such as the railways, upon which the factories are absolutely dependent for their supplies. Each closure throws out of work more thousands of men and the Board of Trade estimated that in addition to roughly 1,000,000 miners, there were 300,000 men out of work on Sunday due to the strike.

Every day of the walkout the ratio of others forced out of work will increase, as existing supplies of material and coal are exhausted, and it may be said that the 300,000 now thrown out of employment are only the first to be affected.

With just one exception the London newspapers are standing back of the Government and the unorganized masses, advising the Cabinet to make this the great test between organized and unorganized toilers. The general public is urged to back up the Government to economize in everything and not to worry.

The Sunday Dispatch alone suggests a surrender, advising that the Government immediately grant the miners a raise of two shillings, pointing out that three months of negotiation preceded the decision to strike as evidence of the miners reluctance to strike. It was forced upon the Dispatch says, to declare the strike because negotiation had proven its futility.

The Sunday Observer advises the Government and the people to resist unflinchingly, to keep cool and to "see it through" as Great Britian did the great war.

Congratulating the Government and Premier Lloyd George on the firm stand that has been taken against the miners, the Times says the public welcomes this test at last because it precipitates the whole labor question.

Horatio Bottomley, the noisy thunderbolt, who rumbles in every edition of John Bull, came out strong for democracy in the Sunday Pictorial which has a large circulation among the middle classes. He declared the miners to be striking against that institution and urged the "people" to settle their differences and rally round the Government.

J. H. Thomas, head of the 1,000,000 railway men and other transport workers, urges his followers to remain cool and do nothing rash while their elected leaders are handling the matter of whether they are indulge in a sympathetic holiday.

In general the newspapers are whistling for a compromise within a few days, although it is frequently suggested that Parliament try drastic action.

The first effects of the strike on industries dependent on coal were shown in the announcement of the closing of hundreds of plants in the iron, steel and tin-plate centers. The Sheffield Steel Works notified 80,000 workers that the plant would close down on Saturday, October 23. At Leeds 1,500 steel workers are idle and 20,000 were affected by the closing of the Teeside Works on Saturday.

In South Wales the iron and steel galvanizing works are to close at once, which will render idle 250,000 additional laborers regardless of whether their own unions vote for a sympathetic strike. In the seaports many thousands of men are idle on the docks owing to the export embargo on coal.

Twenty thousand cotton mill workers are out of work at Blackburn and Bolton and 20,000 more will lose their jobs this week. Even the fishing industry is up against it because hundreds of trawlers, with no coal available for their bunkers, are to be tied up at Grimsby and other fishing ports and the great shipping industry is badly crippled because of the same lack.

There was a tremendous demonstration of the unemployed in London yesterday and the situation was not ameliorated by the announcement of the Ministry of Labor that general unemployment in London has been increasing at the rate of 8,000 a week. Even before the strike began, during the week ending October 1, 11,000 men were thrown out of work due to industrial depression, and the present number in London is 113,001 according to the Minister's figures, which are not up to date.

INDEPENDENTS RUSH TO COX'S STANDARD

Former Prominent Republicans or Progressives to Vote Democratic Ticket

ISSUE STATEMENT

Over 100 Representative Men and Women Reject Harding's League Attitude—Patriotism Above Party.

New York, Oct. 18.—A joint statement by "over 100 representative men and women who have usually supported the Republican or Progressive tickets" announcing their intention to vote for Cox and Roosevelt and those Senatorial candidates "who stand honestly and frankly for ratification of the treaty and adherence to the League" was made public here last night by Hamilton Holt, magazine editor.

The statement sets forth that "it is now too late to talk of a new association of nations,' to be created under Republican auspices," and, repudiating the present Republican leadership that "has permitted the Republican party to become a 'little America' party," urged all Republicans and Progressives to "put patriotism above party" and add their names to the list of signers.

This list, according to Mr. Holt, is increasing daily. An analysis given out with the statement said that it included 15 Republican officers of the League to Enforce Peace, clergymen representing all the principal denominations, the presidents of Oberlin, Vassar, Smith, Bryn Mawr and Mount Holyoke Colleges, several veterans of the great war and nine former Republican or Progressive party managers and office holders. In the last classification were listed Charles P. Howard, of New York; Violet M. Leroy, New York; Theodore Marburg, Baltimore; W. H. Nichols, Bennington, Vt.; Herbert Parsons, New York; Silas D. Salsbury, Indianapolis; Edward E. Slosson, New York; Richard Welling, New York, and Alice White, Wellesley, Mass.

New York, Oct. 18.—The statement issued yesterday by former Republicans and Progressives in behalf of the Democratic Presidential ticket follows:

"We the undersigned, who usually have supported the Republican or national Progressive tickets, have been trained in political tradition emphasizing the international responsibilities of America. From Lincoln to Roosevelt and Taft, each successive Republican Administration has labored for a closer understanding among the nations of the world.

"The present Republican leadership which has nominated Senator Warren G. Harding for the Presidency has repudiated these traditions. This leadership has permitted the Republican party to become a little-America party, drifting toward national isolation and the relinquishment of any real responsibility for the general peace of the nations.

"We hold no brief for the present Administration, or the details of its foreign or domestic policies. We do not insist on any particular wording of reservations to any articles of the treaty. We have been to grant of much hostility on the part of Republican Senators to some features of the treaty, hoping that in the end they would agree to a reasonable compromise and that the treaty could be ratified with a patriotic agreement of a majority of both great American parties.

"We did not desire that a cause which should have served to unite all parties in the same spirit of common service which won the great war should be made a basis of party difference in the present campaign.

"We regret the issue, but we cannot avoid it. National isolation has never been a Republican watchword. It shall not be ours. Such Republican statesmen as Andrew D. White, Joseph H. Choate and Elihu Root labored for the development of international law and for the organization of the world through the two Hague conferences; we would continue in the path they indicated.

"We cannot forget the interest of President McKinley and Secretary Hay in establishing peace with jus-

WAR EFFECTS IN VIRGINIA COUNTIES.

Varying effects of the war on Virginia counties are told by the detailed census reports on the population of the State, not yet published but now available. Of the 244,747 increase for the State in the decade 162,000 was in the cities and towns of more than 5,000 inhabitants and 81,000, almost exactly half as much, was outside them.

Twenty-one counties show loss of population. The remaining seventy-nine have varying gains. The largest gain is in Warwick, with 11,417 population, an increase over 1910 of 89 per cent. Much of this, of course, is attributable directly to the intense war activities naturally concentrated around Hampton Roads. Probably a considerable proportion of the gain was drained from the adjoining counties of Elizabeth City and York, which barely held their own, the former having now 25,144 people, an increase of 18.5 per cent; the latter 8,646, or 3.7 per cent gain.

The Hopewell boom is indicated by Prince George, ranking second in the State in percentage of gain, the present population being 14,312, an increase of 82.4 per cent.

Arlington is a "war baby" literally not only new born in name, but flourishing since Washington, just across the river, overflowed with war workers. Arlington's gain over the old Alexandria is 58 per cent, with present population of 10,231, aside from Alexandria City's gain of 17.5 per cent, giving her 18,050 people.

The next largest increase is at the opposite end of the State. Dickenson, on the Kentucky line and the most nearly solidly white county south of the Potomac, is credited with 13,592 population, a gain of 17.2. Wise, third county of the State none but Norfolk and Pittsylvania being ahead of her, shows 36.1 per cent gain, compared with 11.2 for Pittsylvania and 8.2 for Norfolk. Buchanan is next to Wise in percentage of gain, with 25.2, which, however, is more than seven per cent less than the standard 33 per cent of normal natural increase.

Nansemond is the heaviest looser in the State, a condition explained by her proximity to the great war activities on the coast and rivers. She is credited now with but 20,199 population, having lost 24.9 per cent since 1910. Her immediate neighbors, Isle of Wight and Surry, suffered less severely from the drain, losing but 3.3 and 4.2 per cent, respectively. The figures demonstrate clearly that the counties which were the scenes of war activities, direct or indirect, gained substantially, while those in their immediate neighborhoods lost severely.—Evening Dispatch, Richmond.

NOTHING TO GET EXCITED ABOUT.

Some of our contemporaries are becoming hectic over the report from Washington that $22,700,000,000 was expended for luxuries last year. The report is based upon luxury tax figures. As a matter of fact a many things listed as luxuries under the law, drawn by Claude Kitchin, to whom scented soap is a dissipation and clean linen an extravagance, are necessities. That is, they are necessities to the gentleman or the lady prone to think that cleanliness is kin to godliness, and that slovenly habits are not necessarily a symbol of virtue.

Still a vast sum was expended for luxuries, properly so classed. What of it? Three-quarters of a billion dollars went for those little vanities indulged in by women who wish to be attractive who stimulate the purposes of nature with fragrant and beautifying cosmetics of one sort or nother. These are luxuries, but they are luxuries to which our women folks are entitled, and occasionally they turn out to be paying investments. More than one girl while laying on the face cream has laid the foundation of her fortunes.

Eight hundred-million dollars was expended for cigarettes, while more than half a billion went for cigars. Luxuries, perhaps in the last analysis, but who would decree that they be dispensed with? Only Dr. Pease and his kind, and they are so few as to be negligibile.

Men and women are entitled to luxuries, and in gratifying their desires they extend trade and contribute to the prosperity of the whole country. Twenty-two billions for luxuries indicates a prosperous condition of the country. We would like to see the figures go to fifty billions next year.

APOLOGY IS DEMANDED FOR RAID ON SPANISH SHIP

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 16.—As an aftermath of the raid of United States International Revenue agents on the Spanish steamship Salvadora last Tuesday night, A. C. Humphries, Spanish vice-consul at this port today forwarded a letter to Norman R. Hamilton, collector of the port, demanding an apology for the occurrence and requesting that steps be taken for the recovery and restoration of the property of the master of the ship, which the captain claims was stolen from his cabin while the raid was in progress.

The communication, along with the official report of the ship's master will be forwarded to the authorities in Washington.

THE GIST OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Questions Answered for the Woman Voter.

By Mrs. George Bass, Chairman Woman's Bureau Democratic National Committee.

1. What is the League of Nations?

It is a union of the civilized nations of the world (formed by the Treaty of Versailles)—a sort of international society with headquarters in Switzerland.

2. What is its purpose?

The League seeks to bring about world peace—

(a) By settling disputes between nations by peaceful adjustment instead of by war;

(b) By pledging each member nation gradually to reduce armies and navies (this means, of course, the reduction of taxes and the high cost of living);

(c) By making treaties public, so that all citizens may know what their governments are doing;

(d) By undertaking to better working conditions and the welfare of women and children everywhere.

3. Who belongs to the League of Nations?

Thirty-seven nations have already joined—all the principal countries (aside from the former enemy nations who are allowed to come in later)—EXCEPT THE UNITED STATES AND BOLSHEVIST RUSSIA. Any self-governing nation may be admitted, and any member may withdraw after two years' notice.

4. Why is the United States Outside?

Because a Republican Senate, ignoring the fact that our American boys fought and died in a "war to end war," has twice wilfully refused to ratify the Peace Treaty, and so bring the United States into this League for peace.

5. How is the League of Nations run?

(a) By an Assembly of delegates from each nation in the League, for discussion of international affairs. It is something like a big, international conference where the small states may be freely heard. The Assembly may recommend action to the several home governments.

(b) By a Council of nine delegates (the United States, Great Britain, Italy, France and Japan, to be always represented) which requires into the causes of disputes and makes recommendations for their peaceful settlement. The Council is the real governing body of the League.

ALL POSITIONS IN THE LEAGUE, INCLUDING THAT OF SECRETARY, ARE OPEN EQUALLY TO MEN AND WOMEN

6. What are the rules for voting?

On all vital points the vote must be unanimous in both bodies. In the Assembly each separate nation and self-governing colony has one vote, although they may send threedelegates to cast this one vote, representing different interests (labor, capital or a woman delegate to give the woman's point of view). In the Council every nation represented, large or small, has a single vote and a single degate. Great Britian, with all her colonies and about on-quarter of the world's population, has just one ballot.

7. Is the United States out-voted?

NO, the United States with its one vote has power to veto any important proposal of which it does not approve, either in the Assembly or in the Council.

8. How does the League settle disputes.

All nations in the League agree to submit arbitration disputes threatening war. Six months are given to investigate and report. Not until three month later (giving time for thought and cooling off!) may a member actually go to war, and not then, if one nation in the quarrel accepts the recommendations made. In case of disputes with non-members, or between non-members, the outsider is first invited to come into the League. Legal tangles (such as the meaning of a treaty, etc.) are settled by a Permanent Court of International Justice. In spite of Republican opposition to the League, the noted Republican jurist Elihu Root, has been abroad for the task of establishing this Court under instructions from the League Council.

9. But what if a nation goes to war?

Then the nations in the League agree to cut off the offender entirely from all trade and intercourse. The Council may "advise" them (only that) to contribute a small share of armed force, subject, however, to the approval of their own governments.

10. What is ARTICLE X?

This Article states that members of the League guarantee to respect one another's territory and protect it from external attack (the same principle as our own Monroe Doctrine which has made for peace on this continent for nearly a hundred years). It means that if our country is in peril she may call upon other nations in the League for aid. Article X does not apply to domestic troubles, such as revolution or civil war, unless the peace of the world is thereby disturbed.

11. Can the United States declare war without consent of Congress?

NO, Congress by our Constitution is the only power in this country having authority to declare war. But first, within the League itself, the United States by its right of veto may refuse to enter any war.

12. Why do Women want a League of Nations?

Because it saves the mothers of the future from sacrificing their sons to war. Because it is the only practical working plan to replace conflict, bloodshed and sorrow by peace and good-will.

James M. Cox, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, and for those Senatorial candidates who stand honestly and frankly for ratification of the treaty and adherence to the League."

Coach Lee Nalls, of the Virginia Athletic Club football team believes in the saying: "Practice makes perfect." During the past week, he has had the lads work out every evening perfecting different trick plays that were used in yesterday's football game played on the Shipyard Field with the United Senate Preps team. The Virginias were victorious by a 27 to 0 score. The teams were evenly matched, and, while the Senators were good football players, the Virginias showed to better advantage in every branch of the game.

The Virginias scored in the first quarter, when "Taddy" Shafer, who was playing brilliant football, carried the ball over the line for a touchdown. Sammy Sampson, kicked a goal, thus putting the Virginias, seven points to the good.

Two touchdowns—one by West and another by Rowen—after sensational playing by members of the Virginias, were tallied during the second quarter. Sampson kicked his second goal for the game.

The scoring ended in the third quarter, after "Coodles" Owens rushed over the line for the final touchdown, and John Nugent kicked a goal.

Corsa, right end, and Poss, left end, raced over the field almost as fast as Man 'O War, the great race horse. Captain Jimmy Alexander entered the contest during the last half of play and gained many yards for his team by long end runs.

The entire Virginia team played an excellent brand of football; forward passes, hand-to-hand maneuvers, and pivot plays were executed in a lightning-like manner, when Quarterback Nugent gave signal numbers for their execution.

The playing of Earl Cornell was excellent and he received many hard knocks from the visitors but would come back for more with a smile on face (but many an ache in his body).

Center Mc Kenney and Lucian Peyton did not participate in the game on account of injuries received during the Virginia-Washington game last Sunday.

Messers. Carl Mueller, referee; Lamar Monroe, head linesman; Fred Pettitt, umpire, and Harry Howard, timekeeper, rendered excellent service as officials of the game.

The Dreadnaught A. C. football team easily defeated Camp Humphreys Engineering School, 51 to 0, yesterday. Long runs by Hayden, Hasson, Wenzel and Swann featured the play, all scoring touchdowns. Crouch was a big man for the winners on defense. Lewis starred for the losers.

Fort Myer will be the "Big D" opponents in a game scheduled for next Sunday at Alexandria, Va. The Fort Myer Band is expected to follow their team and inject some "pep" into the scrap.

On Tuesday, October 19, 1920, the Dreadnaught's Athletic Carnival will take place at the Opera House, and a first class card has been arranged for this performance, such as wrestling, boxing, singing and dancing, starting at 8:15 p. m.

Papers Say High Price Era in England is Over.

London, Oct. 18.—The high cost of living in England is at an end. The "war boom is over," according to the London newspapers who announce the fact with prominently displayed streamers across their front pages. They indicate that the English are optimistic of giving the knockout blow very soon to the remaining high prices.

During the past six months the average fall in prices on raw materials has been 30 per cent. Rubber products have come down 50 per cent, tin has tumbled 25 per cent; copper, 6 per cent, Merino wool, 45 per cent, and American cotton, 30 per cent.

The only sensational decline among food stables, however, was the 30 per cent drop in the price of sugar.

Declaring that the output has now outstripped purchasing power, the London Times says that the "high tide of artifisial prosperity has at last begun to ebb in the United States."

"The decline in England has been more rapid," the Times points out.

BLOOD IS FUEL TO THE BODY

Pumped Through the System by the Heart it Sustains the Muscles And Tissues

PEPTO-MANGAN HELPS BLOOD

Keep the Quality of Your Blood at Its Best—It Means Vigorous Health and Ability to Accomplish

Blood acts like a fuel. Pumped through the body by the heart, it sustains the muscles and tissues. It renews them. It feeds the brain—the tissues of the eye and face. That is why people look so pale and lifeless when blood is improverished. The body tissues are being supplied with weak fuel. The blood has not enough red corpuscles. You would not eat poor food with no nourishment in it no more should you let the fuel that supplies sustenance to your entire body be inferior. Have good blood. Improve the quality and keep it at its best.

If you look pale and feel weak, if you have lost your enthusiasm and energy, if your blood is clogged with poisons, your system is being fed with a poor grade of blood. That is no way to go around. If you are not at your best, get at the source of the trouble right away. Put an end to half-living

Take that ideal tonic, Pepto-Mangan, to tone up your blood and purify it. Get the full enjoyment out of living. Breathe fresh air, take exercise.

Be sure to ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." It comes in convenient tablet form and in liquid. One has the same medicinal value as the other. There is only one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and the name "Gude's" is on the package. Adv.

Your Credit---How About It?

There Are Three Ways In Which Credit May Be Secured--- By the Deposit of Collateral, by Notes Endorsed by People of Means and on the Honor of the Person Who Desires Credit

Credit is one of the biggest factors in promoting success in the commercial and manufacturing world as well as in private life. To the merchant—or manufacturer—who wishes to expand, credit is of far more importance than capital. They realize its worth and are extremely careful in seeing that nothing should impair same. In the case of individuals, credit is of equal importance to them tho it may not be used as often or to the extent that it is used by those who are in business. A man, or woman, who will permit outstanding accounts to accumulate and go for an indefinite period without paying same, is on the rapid road to bankruptcy. Perhaps not in the same way that a business man would be who did not pay his obligations, but the withdrawal of credit is bound to follow and means the same to an individual who does not pay his bills as bankruptcy does to the business man.

CREDIT---When You Desire Same, How Do You Secure It? Is Your Word Good, Must You Give Security or Have Some One Vouch For You Before This Desired Accommodation May Be Secured?

It is our purpose only to deal with that class of credit that is extended by man to man simply upon honor and because of the faith of one in the other. Where credit is obtained, by reason of security of some description being given, the obligation is usually met and if it is not, the one who extends the credit does not lose by reason of the security given for the purpose of obtaining the accommodation.

A debt of honor should never be allowed to bring dishonor. In the days of old, men were willing to lay down their lives if need be, rather than permit dishonor to come by reason of their failure to make good debts of this character.

When a merchant extends credit to an individual upon solely the agreement to pay, he should take no more chance than when he is dealing with the person of resource and who is thus "good" as the saying is. He should be as fully protected by the honor of his debtor as he is by the means of the other. The persons who recognize the importance of meeting their obligations and who do not let them go unpaid, have a reputation for honesty and the payment of bills that is an asset of great worth. The promptness with which they meet their obligations becomes a matter of record which grows stronger and stronger day by day.

Those who willfully resist the efforts which their creditors make to collect their accounts also gain a reputation that grows as rapidly, if not more so, than does that of those who are prompt payers.

In this city, as in the majority of all other progressive cities, there is a credit association and which is made up of the business men of the city. This organization is not a menace to any person who is honest. Its influence is directed against those who would go from store to store, obtaining all the goods which they can secure upon their word to pay and with no intentions of paying for some.

In the office of the association, it might be said is an honor roll and a dishonor roll. On the honor roll will be found the names of those who ask for credit and incidentally secure same by reason of their record for honesty. On the roll of dishonor, will be found the names of those who do not meet their obligations. Great care is used in investigating carefully before names are entered upon this roll. It must be proven conclusively that they persist in refusing to pay for their purchases before they are classed among those who are not worthy of credit.

A debt of honor, whether it is for a pound of beef steak, a suit of clothes, a furniture purchase, or for articles, or services, of any description should not be treated lightly. It should be recognized as a just claim and worthy of prompt attention in every case if one's credit is to be maintained.

It Is Your Duty to Pay Your Bills

Make it a point to pay promptly at the agreed time. You and your creditor will both be pleased and will prosper financially.

Credit Is Not a Difficult Thing to Secure—It Can Also Be Easily Lost. Give Heed to the Manner In Which You Use It and You'll Continue to Enjoy Its Benefits

Hangar Blaze To Be Probed.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—Three officers, appointed by Capt. J. H Dayton, commandant of the navy yard, will constitute a board of inquiry to investigate yesterday the naval air station fire which destroyed thirteen flying boats and airplanes, two hangars and much valuable equipment in Anacostia Saturday night.

Capt. T. T. Craven, chief of the naval air service, said Sunday night no one at the station was blamed for the conflagration, as defective wiring was supposed to have caused the fire. The flames had their origin in the roof of hangar "B."

The station was sued primarily for experimental purposes, according to Capt. Craven, but no important work was being done at the time of the fire. The equipment burned contained nothing that cannot be replaced.

Whether the Navy Department will appropriate money for new hangars and planes is not known at present. The hangar under construction will be ready in about ten days, and, although smaller than either of the hangars which burned, will be large enough to house the two seaplanes and five airplanes which escaped destruction.

Belfast Torn By New Riots.

Dublin, Oct. 18.—Extensive military operations in Dublin, the slaying of two men and a boy by secret agents and a renewal of the rioting in Belfast, with two deaths, characterized the week-end in Ireland.

In Dublin, cordons of soldiers were drawn around entire districts and the houses searched. Searching parties of soldiers, reinforced by tanks, went from end to end of several streets searching every house.

In Belfast, two civilians were killed when the troops fired on a crowd that was attacking the police. About fifty were wounded. The crowd made up of Unionists and Nationalists, was fighting, and when the police interfered joined against the officers, wounding three.

There was shooting in the streets of Londonderry; police and soldiers were wounded.

In the South a bridge leading into Limerick was blown up to prevent the transportation of soldiers along the road.

Stop That Hacking Cough At Night

BROKEN REST and sleep lost because of distressing, hacking coughing during the night will break down the strongest constitution if permitted to continue. You can get rid of the annoying cough caused by "tickling" throat—even the deep, racking, wrenching cough that sometimes comes with a bad cold—you can relieve spasmodic croup, whooping cough, la grippe and bronchial coughs by taking

Foley's Honey and Tar

COMPOUND

There is nothing "just as good" as this old reliable family cough medicine. While honey and pine tar are recognized the world over as an excellent remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, there is a certain skill required by years of experience in preparing Foley's Honey and Tar that makes this splendid cough medicine stand absolutely alone in results.

Read What This Woman Says

Mrs. E. M. Doby, 1135 Heck Ave., Asbury Park, N.J., writes: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar while I was visiting at Allen Hurst and find it is a wonderful medicine. It seems to have reached the hacking cough that I have had for years. I highly recommend it and will always keep it in the house. It is wonderful. It helped me so much."

Coughing at night not only wears down the afflicted sufferer, but also causes loss of sleep and nervous strain to other members of the family. You can take Foley's Honey and Tar with perfect confidence that it contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs. It tastes good, and children like it. Every user is a friend.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 154 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

MOVIES

RICHMOND—"IN the Heart of A Fool."

The Richmond will offer for two days beginning tonight a new Allan Dwan production called "In the Heart of a Fool," presented by the Mayflower Photoplay Corporation and released through the First National.

While the plot of this splendid story is full of big dramatic punches it is laid in most familiar surroundings and its characters are accurately drawn from life. They are just plain everyday people such as we have all come in contact with. The locale is in any little city of this country.

But into this peaceful community comes a vamp—the Lorelei the picture calls her and soon everybody is involved in a series of exciting adventures that change their whole life. And there is tragedy and thrills a-plenty. The Tragedy when an explosion occurs in the local coal mines and thrills when the hired mob from a great city visits the place and attempts to run the hero out of town.

"In the Heart of a Fool" is a picturization of William Allen White's powerful epic of American life and many claim that this is the best work of fiction this distinguished author has ever written.

INGOMAR—Mary Miles Minter.

"Nurse Marjorie," the screen version of Israel Zangwill's stage success by the same name, featuring Mary Miles Minter, and being shown today at the Ingomar Theatre, is a photo-play that deserves serious consideration. The story can be called a satire on English life, treating with the traditions of the nobility and the pluck, grit and bulldog tenacity of the commoners. Only from the satirical pen of so eminent a writer as Zangwill, can such a story come, infecting throughout a subtleness of humor that is most agreeable and mirth provoking.

Mary Miles Minter and the supporting cast portray the characters in an exceptional manner, and William Desmond Taylor's direction deserves a word of praise.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD CAT
Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel
Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.
If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.
If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodsons Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless pleasant and safe to give to children they like it.
